FOREWORD

In this, our first Annual, we have attempted to portray to the public the spirit shown in school activities and at the same time to benefit ourselves by a visible means of keeping before us the treasured memories of our high school life.

DEDICATION

MISS HOLLEMAN

MR. BRAXTON

To Miss Sadie Holleman and Mr. Paul Braxton we dedicate this,
Our first annual, realizing that their unfailing interest and everlasting work has helped to make our book a success.

This building was constructed in 1922 at a cost of $90,000. At that time Mr. C. N. Bray was secretary of the local school board. At the present time the board is composed of Mr. H. L. Stone, Chairman; J. W. Emerson, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer; and F. G. Brooks. This building contains seventeen rooms, including Home Economics laboratories, library, and rooms for commercial work. There is a separate building recently constructed for the courses in vocational woodwork.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago twenty-six of our present students with a number of others determined upon a journey to a distant land.

In planning this journey, one girl suggested that they board a train for Freshman Land. Then a boy said that he thought, since the world was advancing in speed more each day, they should use something more up-to-date, such as an aeroplane. This was agreeable to all.

On their arrival to Freshman Land they saw strange boys, girls, and other things. These students met four people that were very unfriendly the first few days they were in this new land. These four people, Latin, Mathematics, English, and Sciences, were later their best friends. They decided to stay in Freshman Land one year even though they were called "green little freshies."

They decided to form a government of their own, and to be a busy class. This kingdom was under the reign of the Honorable Paul Braxton.

They held a meeting and elected Helen Fogleman as the governor and Mary Lane Siler as the secretary and treasurer of one class. Irene Cooper and William Holliday first and second leaders of the other section; with Muriel Jones secretary and treasurer. They were represented in the Glee Club and athletics by several. Billy Brady entered the Rotary Essay Contest along with Jack Garvin, Mary Lane Siler and Anna Dixon.

Having spent a successful year with friends, and having accomplished all tasks which were put before them, they left Freshman Land for a vacation.

The summer's vacation was a great one and everyone was having a fine time when the sound of a bell was heard in a far and distant land. They understood what it was and that the time had come when they must return, not to Freshman Land, but to Sophomore Land.

When they assembled for their second journey, they found that their number was larger than the previous year. They again climbed in their aeroplanes and started to the kingdom of knowledge.

This year they elected Baird Paschal as their president; Anna Dixon, vice president; and Alice Brady, secretary and treasurer.

They were represented in athletics by several and they furnished many members in the Glee Club. Martha Brower represented the Durham District at the State Music Contest. Anna Dixon won the Essay Contest. Billy Brady, and Jack Garvin entered the Declamation Contest.

After spending a year in Sophomore Land and having overcome many more difficulties, their government granted them another vacation.

The summer soon passed and school time again stared them in the face. They assembled for the third time. This time they were to fly to Junior Land. They were glad to welcome more industrious workers to their class. They elected William Holliday, president; Anne Cresswell, vice president; and Doris Fox, secretary and treasurer. This year they were not only represented in the Glee Club and Athletics, but also in the newly organized Debating Club, Knitting Club, and Band. Also a school paper was organized and called the Kuo-Wit-Izel.

Billy Brady again entered the Declamation Contest, Mary Lane Siler, Helen Fogleman, Anna Dixon, and Anne Cresswell were awarded metals in the Triangle Debate. Baird Paschal, Douglas Crotts and Martha Brower were cheer leaders. On April 22, they gave a Banquet for the Seniors, which they had a lot of fun getting up, hoping all the time to be repaid with a better one next year. This was now the end of the third year. They were leaving to return to Siler City High only one more time for an eight months visit.

The vacation was great but September soon came around again. This time they assembled not only for the fourth, but for the last journey. This time they numbered forty-two. These students were all ready to do the best for Siler City High, as this was their last chance.

Members of the Parliament: Since their arrival in High School had been: Mr. Crutchfield, Miss Nelson, Miss Harris, Miss Rosser, Miss Holleman, Mr. Howard, Miss Stinson, Miss Sheppard who later became Mrs. Martin, Miss Marshburn and Mrs. Howard, Miss Wilson who now is Mrs. Hinshaw and Mr. Stahl.

The trip to Senior Land seemed shorter than their former trips. Each one had said, "It will be an honor to sit in the Senior row and say, I am the Junior of yesterday, the dignified Senior of today."

This time they again elected Baird Paschal, president; Muriel Jones, vice president; Irene Cooper, secretary; and William Holliday, treasurer.

They were well represented in the Glee Club and Athletic Club. Being industrious workers, President Baird Paschal called a class meeting. Miss Holleman, their honorary member of parliament, was there, and it was decided to put out a class annual, THE SEXTORQUE. An Annual Staff was immediately formed, which consisted of the following: Baird Paschal, Anna Dixon, Mary Lane Siler, C. C. Brewer, Jr., Emmie Dark, Alice Brady, Billy Brady, Banks Fox, Irene Cooper, William Holliday, and Muriel Jones. Three plays were given to help raise money for the annual. They were: "Balky Courtship," "The Ghost Walks Fast," and "Rumors Wanted."

On November 6 the class was presented tickets to the Carolina-V.P.I. football game to be at the Carolina stadium at Chapel Hill. In spite of the rain, it was a glorious day. On December 5 some of them went to Chapel Hill again; it rained, but they didn't mind the weather. The president of the United States was going to make an address. So hard did it rain that only a few, including Alice Brady and Baird Paschal, class sponsors, were able to see President Roosevelt during the address due to the change of location for delivery. It was at first planned to be at the stadium but because of the rain the place was changed to the gymnasium.

This time the Kno-Wit-Nowl was under the direction of: Anne Cresswell, Editor-in-Chief; Muriel Jones, Society Editor; Alice Brady, Comic Artist; Billy Brady, Dorothy Bray, Dixie Light, Irene Cooper, and Martha Brower, reporters; Doris Fox, Business Manager; Helen Fogleman, Circulation Manager.

This year the activity period was adapted into the school curriculum. With it came new clubs such as the Leather Craft (Boys and Girls), Home Economics, and Dramatics which later united with the Debating Club and became the Dram-Bate Club. Staff meetings were held and the Band, Glee Club, and Athletic organizations resumed their work of the year before.

Now the fourth and last year of the journey has drawn to a close. The travelers have reached the goal—the Distant Land for which they embarked four years ago. They have made many friends along the way. So, with reluctance, the Seniors bid adieu to dear old Siler City High, and thus begin their cruise over the deep waters of Life to the land called world.

MARTHA BROWER, Historian.

Class Poem

As we stroll along the campus greens
Our girls remind us of queens
With yellow roses in their hair
And happiness high in the air.

The boys, too, are looking very fine
They'll keep their motto all the time
Excelsior Semper, Higher Always
Has helped them through their high school days.

Black and gold before them shine
As they form a graceful line
To reach their utmost desire
Amid applause of each proud sire.

Our diplomas will help us through
When we are trying to be true;
Friends and enemies all alike
Will help to make our lives more bright.

CHRISTINE SILER, Poet.

CLASS PROPHECY

One sunny afternoon, as I lay on the beach picking up the soft, slipping, white sand and letting it drift slowly through my fingers, I began to think of this sand as time. Time! slowly but surely gliding through my fingers. Yes, the sands of time are passing. As my mind wanders through this labyrinth of thoughts I suddenly see a storm approaching, the clouds slowly pass and I see thousands of spies. I look more closely: Soft, slipping silence. As my prophetic soul, scorning more modern aids, seeks for some sweet, ancient oracle, there spreads before my gaze, as through a mystic haze, a clear, swift panorama.

I see now plainly, now dimly, but these things I see and show to you:

A high room slowly unfolds before me and, can it be true? Yes! it is some of my classmates of 1939. They are now in New York City and I see these familiar looking figures there. Anne Creswell teaching dancing in an up town store. Ervin Budd answering bells and waiting on patrons at the Ritz, where in the lobby I see Henry Jordan engaged in his chief occupation, charming the ladies. Edna Ruth Brown is also there giving money to the poor. Edna Ruth is now wealthy, having published a successful volume of poems. Marguerite Kennedy is working in the employment of the National Association of Five and Ten Cent stores. She is now a world renowned Fashion Critic. At the broadcasting studio I see Martha Brower, a favorite radio artist singing her way into the heart of all America. Ah! How quickly they pass before my vision.

The cloud moves on and this time stops at the Baltimore Hospital where William Holliday is an efficient surgeon and has for his chief nurses Christine Siler and Dixie Light.

Slowly the cloud moves, appearing in Chicago where I see Doris Fox, who is in a state of single blessedness but important as a hat checker in a theater. Clyde Headen is there also and he is now manager of the Chicago Cubs. Still another, Muriel Jones, is seen in one of the leading stores where she is a model.

The cloud moves swiftly and here are more I would show you:

Douglas Crotts, a successful college professor in Greensboro, North Carolina, and also holding a recognized position in the field of Art. In this city is Jack Garvin, who is connected with the Greensboro Daily News, where he is sports editor. Ah! There in the ranks of the teachers are: Irma Womble and Dorothy Bray. . . . I cannot see that one . . . and, yes Daphne Andrew.

The cloud suddenly turns to Philadelphia where I find Baird Pasehal sealing the heights of fame as a prominent member of the Bar. Charlotte Moody, enjoying the realization of the ambition that she has long cherished—that of being a dietitian in the leading hotel. C. C. Brewer is there too, having obtained the position of a banker. Irene Cooper is a famous math teacher in the school. Harold and Hawley Teague working for Uncle Sam as pilots for the United States Postoffice. Curtis Budd is hailed on the radio as the greatest comedian since the time of Zazu Pitts.

The cloud travels toward our home town when it stops for a moment in Durham. There I find Nydia Dark leader of the Duke University Band. Mary Lane Siler is dietitian at the Washington-Duke Hotel. Helen Fogleman is head of "A School for Unmarried Ladies," where one learns the Fine Art of Living Alone. Helen Frances Smith is leading clerk in Kress's store. Emmie Dark is an efficient teacher at Duke University. Reaching Siler City, I find Walker Brewer a mechanic in the Ford Garage. Anna Dixon is Home Economics teacher in the Siler City High School. Eugene Fox is soda jerker in Edward's Drug Store. Billy Brady is the owner of the Brady's Flower Shop, and Harold Kennedy now owner of the leading Theater in town.

Suddenly the cloud breaks and travels swiftly to California where I see Billy White coming on the air, now as famous as Tommy Dorsey once was. Alice Brady is dress designer for Joan Bennett. Thad Ellis is working on the movie lot as stand in. Richard Siler is a famous jockey on the race track. Ray Sizemore and Banks Fox are running a drug store combined with a dance hall where all the movie stars stop in for drinks and to dance. My vision grows dim. I see, faintly William Honbarger starting on one of his famous tours of lecturing in a political campaign.

There is a strong wind. . . . Yes . . . was it my face? Dear, dear to think that I couldn't find out my fate. The sand lightly slips back into place and I can tell no more. Oh! for another look into the future. But I guess that my chance is gone. Soft, slipping, silently the sand has disappeared.

GERTRUDE GREENE, Prophet.

WILL

NORTH CAROLINA,
CHATHAM COUNTY,
Siler City High School.

We, the seniors of Siler City High School, realizing our superiority over all other classes of our school and that our school days are numbered, and wishing in so far as possible to preserve for our class some of our excellent traits and talents, do make, declare and publish this as our last will and testament.

ITEM I

Muriel Jones generously bequeaths her ability in applying make-up to Jane Cresswell.

ITEM II

Anne Cresswell leaves her rare ability to play basketball to the up and coming little Josephine Dorsette.

ITEM III

Helen Fogleman wills her "Mae West" physique to Lois Brooks.

ITEM IV

Harold Teague leaves to Parker Bell his wonderful woman-fetching curls.

ITEM V

Emmie Dark wills a few of her extra pounds to petite Ruth Jones.

ITEM VI

Helen Frances Smith bequeaths her red hair to Celestine Brewer.

ITEM VII

Nydia Dark leaves several inches of her height to Helen Kennedy to enable her to reach the basketball goal.

ITEM VIII

Curtis Budd wills his mischief making ability to Carlyle Dixon (who really needs no more ability).

ITEM IX

Doris Fox wills her aptitude for talking, to meek little Lucy Ellen Jones.

ITEM X

Baird Paschal wills his personality and popularity to his little brother Don.

ITEM XI

Irene Cooper wills her dancing ability to Georgia Lee Fogleman (who certainly needs it)!

ITEM XII

Thad Ellis generously bequeaths his boxing ability to Tommy Frazier.

ITEM XIII

Hawley Teague bequeaths his wind and notes to Howard Pike, so that Howard may learn to play a bass horn.

ITEM XIV

From Richard Siler comes his job as shop foreman of the vocational building to Van Andrews.

ITEM XV

William Holliday leaves "his way with the women" to Bashful Welford Goldston.

ITEM XVI

Daphne Andrew bequeaths her fine Shorthand ability to Geraldine Phillips.

ITEM XVII

C. C. Brewer wills "his big blue" Buick to Don Lee Paschal. Maybe Don won't have to bum to Liberty anymore.

ITEM XVIII

Harold Kennedy leaves his flirty ways to Robert Hedrick.

ITEM XIX

Toar Crotts leaves his ability to work Geometry to Francis Grimes.

ITEM XX

Jack Garvin leaves his ability as a Sports Writer to Jimmie Goode.

ITEM XXI

Clyde Headen wills his desk to some worthy junior to sleep on. (He hopes they sleep as well as he did.)

ITEM XXII

Ervin Budd wills his curly hair to Hal Poe.

ITEM XXIII

Billy White wills to Winfred Brady his Musical ability.

ITEM XXIV

William Honbarger leaves to Tom Brady his ability as an actor.

ITEM XXV

Marguerite Kennedy leaves to her sister Helen her quiet, modest ways.

ITEM XXVI

Dorothy Bray wishes to pass on her wonderful typing ability to Rosalie Siler.

ITEM XXVII

Gertrude Greene leaves her vocal talent to any junior who thinks she can talk as much as she did.

ITEM XXVIII

Dixie Light leaves her ambition to be a nurse to Faye Poole.

ITEM XXIX

Irma Womble leaves her store of knowledge on every known subject to June Pendergrass.

ITEM XXX

Mary Lane Siler transfers her wonderful intellect to Francis Grimes.

ITEM XXXI

Anna Dixon leaves her knowledge of Geomctry to Willis Wrenn. (He's sure to need it next year.)

ITEM XXXII

Martha Brower and Ray Sizemore leave to Glenn Gilmore their combined musical ability.

ITEM XXXIII

Edna Ruth Brown leaves her dignity and quietness to Ruth Thomas who certainly needs it!

ITEM XXXIV

Walker Brewer directs that his job as a bus driver be given to Nick Dark.

ITEM XXXV

Eugene Fox leaves his ability as soda-jerker to John Robbins.

ITEM XXXVI

Billy Brady transfers to Don Lee Paschal his knowledge of French.

ITEM XXXVII

Charlotte Moody wills her typing grades to Edith Siler.

ITEM XXXVIII

Henry Jordan leaves his bashfulness to Carlyle Dixon.

ITEM XXXIX

Alice Brady leaves her talent for drawing and her admiration of Liberty to any lucky lass who wants them.

And the whole Senior Class modestly bequeaths to its ardent admirers, the juniors, her general ability to work, her aptitude for leaving, her thirst for knowledge, and her best wishes for a class as good as ours.

This the 1st day of May in the year of our Lord, 1939, and the year of our independence.
Class of '39 Eleventh Grade Siler City High School (Seal)

Signed, Sealed, Declared, and Published by the eleventh grade, class of '39, Siler City High School, to be their last will and testament. In their presence and at their request and in the presence of one another we do hereby affix our names as witnesses thereto.

WITNESSES:

Mrs. B. D. Howard,

BUILDERS DREAMS

VISIONS created by the imagination precede the achievement of any really great accomplishment. The ability to weave the threads of imagination into the finished fabric is equally important.

It has been the privilege of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY to cooperate with the staff in creating their vision into material form.

Such coöperation is one of the "visions" which precede the building of a successful business, and is a part of the working policy of the EDWARDS & BROUGHTON COMPANY.

To those Staffs desiring complete co-operation, we offer unexcelled service.

You, too, may be proud of your annual.
